About The Conference

Please join CMACOA for our 34th Annual Training Conference at the Mashantucket Pequot Museum on September 19th. All attendees will receive 5 hours of mandated continuing education units.

We are thrilled to present this year's speaker, Dr. Melinda Merck. Dr. Merck is a nationally renowned expert in veterinary forensic science. She will teach us body handling, scene documentation, evidence recognition and collection, photographic documentation, location mapping, thermal imaging, decomposing bodies and skeletal remains as evidence. She will share insights learned when she worked on the Michael Vick case. Dr. Merck is a fascinating speaker and we guarantee you will enjoy her presentation and gain valuable knowledge you can use in your investigations

Bring those purchase orders and visit our vendors during breaks and lunch. From equipment to shelter supplies, they have you covered.

Of course we will be giving away a fantastic array of door prizes, donated by our vendors and supporters of Animal Control. Come network with fellow ACOs and enjoy a day of training!

Stay safe!

Elease McConnell, President

CMACOA strives to promote the health and welfare of the animals and public we serve and encounter. Keeping within those goals we offer training on a broad range of topics and we always welcome suggestions from attendees for future topics.
